Dear parents and carers,

We hope you have all had a fab Friday like us! We've enjoyed decorating and eating yummy cup-cakes as well as dressing up in white, green & purple...I have seen some great themed hair styles and face paintings! Thank you to everyone supporting this event. Please follow the link to give to Macmillan. All donations will support the charity with their amazing work.

Thank you for all the wonderful feedback from the clubs that have started. The children have been telling me all about what they have enjoyed and the new things they have learned. I now know how to say 'Hello, how are you?' in Spanish & have acquired some top tips for sketching a self-portrait. Well done everyone, we are glad you are enjoying them. Thank you to the staff for giving up their time too.

Have a great weekend from Mrs Jukes and the Oxhey Staff Team.

Picture News – Rule of Law

This week we have been discussing that over the course of our lives, there will be many things that happen to us outside of our control. One thing we do have control over is our response; we can control our actions and what happens next.

Trailblazers: Mental Health Support in Schools

Trailblazers will be running a parent/carer drop in session at Oxhey every Friday morning from 9.30am. Katherine will be available to discuss well being, emotional & mental health concerns you may have for your child or your family, For further information please contact the school office.

SOCIAL MEDIA SCAMS

On any social media platform, you'll often come across links to giveaway-winning websites. They might include an exclusive offer for one of your favourite shows or invite you to compete in a quiz to return for a particular reward. In some cases, clicking on these links takes you to a fake website where you are asked to provide your personal details. The whole enterprise is a ploy to capture sensitive details, such as your email address and password, which the scammers then exploit at your expense.

Clickbait for fake rewards
You may see offers like 'win a £1000 prize' or 'get a free gift for completing a survey'. These offers are often designed to lure you into providing your personal information. Once you have provided your details, the scammers can use this information to steal your identity or access your bank account.

Malicious app downloads
Scammers often use social media to promote malicious apps. These apps can steal your personal information, spy on your activities, or even damage your device. Always check the reviews and ratings of any app before downloading it.

'Payment first' scams
Scammers often use social media to promote 'payment first' scams. These scams involve paying for a product or service before receiving it. The scammers then use your payment information to steal your money.

Threats disguised as quizzes
Scammers often use social media to promote threats disguised as quizzes. These threats are designed to scare you into providing your personal information. Always be cautious of any threats or quizzes that ask for your personal information.

Debitworthy URLs
Scammers often use social media to promote debitworthy URLs. These URLs are designed to look like legitimate websites, but they are actually fake. Always check the URL carefully before clicking on it.

Angler phishing scams
Scammers often use social media to promote angler phishing scams. These scams involve using a fake profile to lure you into providing your personal information. Always be cautious of any profiles that seem suspicious.

Advice For Parents & Carers

- Set strong passwords
- Review your privacy settings
- Protect your personal information
- Avoid opening suspicious emails
- Choose trusted download sources
- Install anti-virus software
